PHONE ROUND EARTH

TOWA ELECTRICIANS INVENT NEW WIRE SYSTEM.

Sioux City Men Claim to Have Originated Device Which Will Make All the People Each Other's Neighbors.

Sioux City, Ia.—Two Sioux City electricians, M. L. Garrett and E. W. Preston, claim to have found a way to talk around the world.

By the use of an invention just patented by them it will apparently be as easy for Americans to converse with their neighbors in Europe as it has been to talk ten blocks across the city.

Only girdle the world with wire, these men declare, and they will make it possible for the Swiss maiden in her Alpine home to flirt in the morning with young men on Florida plantations. Only bisect the two American continents with copper wire, they declare, and it will be mere child's play for the towns to order cattle from Patagonia over the telephone.

And it is true that the instrument is quite simple. Loosely speaking, it might be said that it consists of a telephone receiver put to the mouth of a telephone transmitter. In other words, that it brings the ear-piece of the ordinary telephone up to a mouthpiece, so that the earpiece may talk into the mouthpiece and sent on the sound.

Garrett and Preston solved the problem by putting together what are really two separate telephones. The central piece is a Eureka transmitter, such as is used by many telephones to-day. This is simply the diaphragm, or disk, seen in any mouthpiece, the vibrations of which are sent over the wire.

Back of this disk are placed two electro-magnets. These electro-magnets are similar to those used in telephone receivers, so, roughly speaking, it might be said that two receivers are put against this disk. The sound from one direction comes over one of these electro-magnets, or receivers, is communicated directly to the disk, which vibrates just as the disk in the original instrument, and the sound is sent on just as it came from the original instrument. 200 miles away. Sound from the other direction passes over the other electro-magnet and to the disk, and goes on its way in the opposite direction, and thus people at opposite ends of the wire can converse with one another.

Heretofore only one receiver magnet has been used in devices of this kind and this is why it has never before been possible to talk but one way. The manner in which the two currents are kept separate is not explained by the inventors, who are not making public some of the details of their instrument.

TELLS OF A HAUNTED ROOM

Earl to Relate to Son Story of Strange Events in Castle Where Ghosts Roam.

London.—When Lord Glamis comes of age the secret of the haunted room at his ancestral home, Glamis castle, Forfarshire, will be communicated to him by his father, the earl of Strathmore. At least that is locally understood to have been the inevitable tradition on such occasions from time immemorial.

What secret the haunted room conceals is supposed to be passed on to every heir as he attains his majority; but its precise nature is in the possession of never more than two persons at the same time.

Conjecture or tradition, says, however, that in the long ago, when the Lindsay and the Orlivies were at feud, a number of the latter clan were imprisoned and died in the particular chamber. That the room has some uncanny peculiarities appears to be beyond doubt, for the late Lord Strathmore had it walled up after visiting the apartment one day to determine the origin of certain weird noises, which, it is said, for a long time disturbed and puzzled him.

The earl opened the door with a key, and dropped back in a dead swoon in the arms of his companions, nor could he ever be induced to open his lips on the subject afterward.

Kentucky Railroads Indicted. Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 25.—The Franklin county grand jury returned 54 indictments against railroads for failing to make reports to the railroad commission of accidents where deaths resulted to passengers or employees.

INDIAN DEATHS IN FAMILY. Strange Series of Thirteen Fatalities Among Relatives of Indianian—Only Two Remain.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Thirteen tragic deaths among members of the same family is the record made by the kin of Abraham Crisp, a German farmer of Fulton county. The thirteenth victim was Samuel Horn, who was killed recently while hauling logs. But two members of the family remain, and the household is deserted through superstitious fear that in some way the place is responsible for the tragedies.

Next Elias, a brother, was round murdered in his barn. His two sons, Clark and Jay, died in an insane asylum. William Burns, a son-in-law of Abraham Crisp, murdered his wife, Joseph Crisp and Mrs. Margaret Graham, his aunt, and then blew out his own brains.

WHEN BABY IS COMING USE Mother's Friend

Woman's greatest dream of beauty and glory is when nature has chosen her to become a mother. Every faculty is keenly alert as she foresees the joy, ambition, success and the life-long satisfaction of the new arrival. The mother's friend, a sweet girl or a brave boy face beside her on the pillow adds zest to her expectancy. Mother's Friend applied externally throughout pregnancy will relieve the pain of parturition, and no mother and child can fail to be healthy, hearty, strong, clear complexioned, pure blooded and cheerful in disposition, who are mutually influenced by the continued use of the great liniment, MOTHER'S FRIEND.

GOLD BRICK FOR DRUMMER

Promised Pretty Girl for Wife, Older Sister Substituted—Traveler Defaults.

Olivet, S. D.—Coerced into working in the harvest field and finally offered a wife as a reward for his doing more work than any of the other hands, James Stacey has upset a remarkable romance.

Stacey is a traveling man, who was trying to get the farmers of South Dakota to appreciate the merits of a self-closing gate. While going around the country in harvest time, being a husky individual, he received a good many offers of work. The gate proposition wasn't a paying one, but Stacey decided to stick to it.

Just about the time grain was turning to a rich yellow in the wheat country west of here Stacey stopped at the big farm of George Blodgin.

Blodgin no sooner saw him than he offered him liberal wages to help harvest his big crop of small grain. In addition to his eldest daughter in marriage and a farm if he proved the best harvester. At that moment a neat, pretty girl came out on the porch. Stacey looked her over carefully.

"I'll stay," said Stacey. Stacey did stay and went to work like a thrashing machine, cutting in the other men, and when the work was done the farmer told Stacey he had won the girl.

"She's not him just now," said the farmer, "but he'll be back soon." "Here they come," shouted the farmer, directly, and Stacey, looking down the trail, saw a buggy coming toward the farmhouse. There were two figures in the buggy, one of them being the girl of his acquaintance.

"I've won," said Stacey, as he helped her to alight, and started to walk off with her. "Here," shouted the farmer, "that's not the girl. She is already engaged. She is the youngest daughter. This is my eldest," and he pointed at the young woman in the buggy.

Stacey took one look at her face and then wiped his forehead. "Default," he said, wearily.

YIELD OF GOLD IS GREATER

Increase in Output of United States Amounts to $7,131,500, with California Leading.

Washington, D. C.—Director Roberts, of the mint, in his estimate of the production of gold and silver in the United States for 1904, declared the "increased production over the calendar year 1903 of $7,131,500 gold and $25,800,000 fine silver in the United States. The largest gold gain was by California, which yielded about $3,000,000 more than in 1903, and a larger amount than in any year since the '60s.

"This gain," the director says, "came chiefly from dredge operations, and a further gain is expected during the current year and for some years to come. The California state mining bureau estimates the possible output of the dredges at $7,000,000 a year for 30 years.

"Colorado shows an increase of nearly $2,000,000 gold and 1,300,000 ounces of silver; Alaska a gain of $700,000 gold; Montana a gain of 2,000,000 ounces of silver; Idaho a gain of 1,300,000 ounces of silver.

"The amount of gold mined was 3,044,568 ounces, and the commercial value of the silver produced was $23,515,928, making the total value of the two metals $11,129,138.

TOOK KEELY CURE MUCH.

Man Escapes from That Institution, Who Had Been Treated Nineteen Times.

New Haven, Conn.—The police of this city arrested a man who gave his name as Charles B. Fleming for being under the influence of drink. He said that his home was in New York.

Two men who said they were doctors from the Keely Institute at West Haven, called at police headquarters and asked Sergeant Cook to release Fleming, and they would see that he was cared for all right. They said they would take him to his home in New York. The sergeant turned Fleming over to the strangers.

Later a man, who said he was a private physician, called at police headquarters and asked for Fleming. The man who was with him, he said, was Fleming's wife. The doctor said that Fleming was a very wealthy New Yorker, and that he had been 19 times in Keely institutes part of the time in Europe. He was very much chagrined to find that Fleming had been released.

Upon inquiry at the Keely Institute in West Haven he learned that the two men who had called for Fleming were only keepers in the place, and not doctors.

Washington Rich at 27. Recent examination of the records of Fairfax county, Virginia, show that George Washington owned 50,000 acres of land when 27 years old, and at the fall slaughtering in 1780 the Washington family killed 150 hogs for their use. The examination also brought out the fact that in 1787 the father of his country sowed 580 acres in grass, 400 acres in oats, 700 acres in wheat and 700 acres in other crops. He owned 140 horses, 112 cows, 500 sheep, and had 250 negroes on the plantation.

SHOT AND KILLED.

They Were "Doing a Sum" When a Fatal Misunderstanding Arose.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 25.—While trying to settle a quarrel between George Kellum and John Fry at Elk Chester Sunday morning Zreeland Kerr was shot and killed.

These men, with a number of other tobacco growers, were discussing the sale of a crop of tobacco in which some of them were interested. They had been making calculations in the dust with sticks, and Fry and Kellum disputed as to the accuracy of their figures. Fry called Kellum a liar, and the latter went to the house of James Reed, his employer, and securing his shotgun, returned to where the other men were. Fry ran into the tobacco barn, but Kerr went toward Kellum, protesting that he should not shoot.

Fry, Kellum told him not to come nearer, and when Kerr did not heed his warning he raised his gun and shot him in the left side. Some of the shot penetrated the heart, and Kerr, after running a short distance, fell over dead. Kellum surrendered to the authorities. They all came here from Lewis county, and it is understood they had had trouble there before moving to Fayette county.

WOODES A PRINCESS.

LONDON WORKMAN IN MAD-HOUSE AS A RESULT.

Writes Ardent Letters to King's Daughter and Scandal Is Disclosed—Will Be Released on Promise.

Windsor.—Court gossipers are eagerly discussing the latest phase of the romance of Princess Victoria, the king's unmarried daughter and her lowly admirer, Frederick Robert Naylor, a leather gilder, whose wages are six dollars a week, and who has been placed in an insane asylum as a result of the love letters which he has addressed to the princess for the past eight years.

A writer of the sentimental school would find material for a three-volume novel in this romantic story. One of the features of the story is that the two have never met. Naylor, no doubt, would recognize the princess should they come face to face, but to the princess his personality is utterly unknown.

Eight years ago Naylor, enraptured by the beauty of the princess, wrote her the first of a remarkable series of beautiful letters, and in pure womanliness the princess answered it.

This correspondence brought another, and with the passage of time the correspondence was continued between the strange pair. To the letters Naylor added poetry, finally having printed for her between most dainty and elaborate covers a volume of his verses, bound by his own hands.

So far as can be learned neither has ever made any effort to see the other, the affair being carried on in an entirely impersonal and idle way.

News of the secret correspondence leaked out just before the operation for appendicitis, which was performed on the princess a few weeks ago, and the police immediately took action. Naylor was moved to an insane asylum and on a drawer in his mother's home containing the letters from the princess a seal was placed.

This is a very strong suspicion also that the young man is perfectly sane, and the police immediately took action. The outcome of the affair will probably be that Naylor will be quietly released on promising to destroy the letters of the princess.

HOLY GHOSTS TO FARM.

Great Procession of Domestic Animals Taken to Lands in Maine for Agricultural Purposes.

Durham, Me.—Leading a caravan of nearly every species of the domestic animal, T. A. Smith and wife of Long Island City, N. Y., have arrived at Shiloh and given the entire lot to Rev. Frank W. Sanford, founder and leader of the "Holy Ghost and Us" society. No sooner had Mr. Smith safely landed his Noah's ark at Shiloh than Sanford appointed him chief farmer and will give him entire charge of the vast estate owned by the Holy Ghosts.

The flock of hens which Smith brought from Long Island City will be the nucleus of the largest poultry farm in the world, according to Sanford, who has ordered incubators with a total capacity of more than 6,000 eggs.

Privately Sanford has contributed millions of money from different parts of the world are nearing the end, Sanford has expressed his determination to make Shiloh self-supporting, and he is praying that each convert to his belief shall be possessed of some domestic animal. Six farms in proximity to Shiloh have been bought by Sanford in the last few days, and in every instance those who have sold to the preacher have deserted the town of Durham. The residents here are uneasy about the future, since Sanford recently showed his power in political matters by procuring the election of several of his followers to town offices.
